

Eva Cassidy, Look Into My Eyes

Lights turn on through the window
As darkness overcomes the sky
Words flow from the mind to the paper
Words from inside meant for your eyes

Turn your thoughts to the future
See into my mind
Your heart controls my every move
When you look into my eyes

Sitting atop the piano
Blindly stare at the keys
Looking for the notes to open your heart
And let me inside open your eyes

Turn your thoughts to the future
See into my mind
Your heart controls my every move
When you look into my eyes

Turn your thoughts to the future
See into my mind
Your heart controls my every move
When you look into my eyes
