

Fall Out Boy, Parker Lewis Can't Lose (But I'm Gonna Give It My Best Shot)

Laughed off my affections while
I passed by your direction
I should have known from your walk, yeah
It was the end of you

It's not like I don't respect your opinion
Quick-witted lips just rip me apart sometimes
Sometimes like this, yeah

I've got a big mouth
And maybe you can handle shutting it up
A simple contradiction could shake my whole foundation
Parker Lewis can't lose

Taking back every step towards you, still failing at everything I do
In the meantime, just talking to my shoes, converse with my Converse
At least they hear a word I say, scrutinize it just as far as they can tell what I'm getting at Tied my tongue around my neck for the last time

It's not like I don't respect your opinion
Quick-witted lips just rip me apart sometimes
Sometimes like this, yeah

I've got a big mouth
And maybe you can handle shutting it up
A simple contradiction could shake my whole foundation
Parker Lewis can't lose

This is the last song about you
This is the last song that I'll waste on you
