

Faouzia & John Legend, Minefields

Now this might be a mistake
That i am calling you this late
But these dreams i have of you ain't real enough

Started bringing up the past How the things you love don't last Even though this isn't fair for both of us

Maybe i am just a fool
I still belong with you
Anywhere you
Whywhere you are

These minefields that i walk through
What i risk to be close to you
These minefields keeping me from you
What i risk to be close to you
close to you

i didn't notice what i lost until all the lights were off and not knowing what you're up to tortured me

now this might be mistake we're broken in s omany ways but i'll piece us back together slowly

Maybe i am just a fool
I still belong with you
Anywhere you
Whywhere you are

These minefields that i walk through
What i risk to be close to you
These minefields keeping me from you
What i risk to be close to you
close to you

That i am calling you this late
But these dreams i have of you ain't real enough
