

Fickle, The Change To Come

This song is an hopeful call to all those who start to fall, you're not alone, not the only one

I'll no longer watch my life passing by, sleep and lie sit down and cry

I wanna live, I wanna feel, I wanna choose my will

Close your eyes and face ignorance no more chance, nevermind what they say
There's a way to fight for better days

Take a look around, I'm sure you'll find enough pain, enough things to blame

Then listen to this sound, go catch all of your friends, spread your words through the whole land

To gather, to gather, to gather

Close your eyes and face ignorance no more chance, nevermind what they say
There's a way to fight for better days

'Cause I'm free to believe the world can change not as the masses want it to Something sincere, something new, just like me and you

Over and over again, pain begins when you lose some, ignorance in no way leads to sufferance

I'd like the world to change,
I'm sure we'll make it

Together for the change,
Together for the change,
Together for the change,
Together for the change,
Together for the change...
Together,
Together,
Together...
