

Five Iron Frenzy, Most Likely To Succeed

Overzealous, to say the least
Underestimated how far you could reach
How could we know how far you'd go?
Behind our backs to make sure
Your point is heard, you're
You're better than us all

Does it really matter how far you go?
Can you get some sleep now, standing on so many toes?

Do what you do when you say what you wanna say
With or without regard for me
Scheme what you scheme when you're thinking of yourself
You're the most likely to succeed

Now that my purpose has been served
Make a caste system for the modern world
Your motto rings, "Tomorrow brings
Another life to underrate
To belittle and humiliate"

Does it really matter how far you go?
Can you get some sleep now, standing on so many toes?

Do what you do when you say what you wanna say
With or without regard for me
Scheme what you scheme when you're thinking of yourself
You're the most likely to succeed
Yearbook said you'd be another winner
You forgot what success should mean
Poster child for becoming homeless
Mr. Most Likely to Succeed

And as you go
Call to mind the things you've come to know
Be sure to wave goodbye
On the day you die
To all that you've wanted, you're leaving behind

Do what you do when you say what you wanna say
With or without regard for me
Scheme what you scheme when you're thinking of yourself
You're the most likely to succeed
The yearbook said that you'd be another winner
You forgot what success should mean
Poster child for becoming homeless
Mr. Most Likely to Succeed
