

Fly To The Sky, Illusion

That feeling of your fragrance that is left inside me
It passes in my nose to my heart
I have now begun to see you in front of my eyes
I touch you who can't be grabbed
My love doesn't know how to end yet
It won't come out from the inside
Even though I try to forget you like that, my heart still
Even though I try to step on it, I'm going to stand by your side for some time
You keep appearing in my dreams, you who had loved me
Through my expression I can stay by your side
If my surrounding illusion at that place sticks out
Your lips, even your tears
You can feel it by touching my hand
When you see me again, it looks like you are whimpering
Even though I try to hate you, my heart still
Even though I try to step on it, I'm going to stand by your side for some time
You keep appearing in my dreams, you who had loved me
Through my expression I can love you in an illusion
When you open your eyes again, I'm the same like that Even though it seems like you're not by my side
My everything I hug you like this in my chest
Even though I try to hate you, my heart still
Even though I try to step on it, I'm going to stand by your side for some time
You keep appearing in my dreams, you who had loved me
Through my expression I can love you in an illusion