

Fred Avril, The Date

Ten A.M.,
Out of the bed,
Sexy Dress,
Lipstick on,
Sunshine.

Eleven A.M.
Slices of bread,
Sandwiches Packed,
Ready for lunch in the park.

Where were you then,
I could feel your touch,
I thought I'd find you,
Where were you then,
I just caught a glimpse,
I thought I saw you.

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,
Playing it loud,
Neighbours will die before you get home.

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,
Play date.

One P.M.
She stands in the park,
Dogs and kids,
Kids and dogs,
Heads turning.

Two P.M.
Quiet place,
Sound of a church Bell,
Must be a wedding.

Where were you then,
I could feel your touch,
I thought I'd find you,
Where were you then,
I just caught a glimpse,
I thought I saw you.

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,
Playing it loud,
Neighbours will die before you get home.

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,

Playing it loud,
Neighbours will die before you...

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,
Playing it loud,
Neighbours will die before you get home.

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,
Playing it loud,
Neighbours will die before you get home.

Walk until eight,
T.V. screen,
Answer the phone,
Answering machine,
Play date,
Playing it loud,
Play date,
Where were you then,
Play date.
