

Freya Ridings, Castles

you left my love you hit the target you got that rush and then you walk out the door you kept me small, is what you wanted I never notice

you held my hand into darkness I didn't care it made me just want you more my god your love it seems so heartless I never noticed

and I hate that you're gone and I hate that I don't wanna let go and I hate that you think that I am weak cuz I don't wanna let you know that I ma goonna build castles form the rubble of your love

I am gonna be more than you ever though I was

each time you left there was a hunger
I felt so scared, couldn't take anymore losing your love it made me strong
I never noticed
