

G-Eazy, Summer In December

Welcome to LA
the land of opportunity where everybody stay
this girl are pretty
some will shine 360 days
but I don't always feel that way
today I need some gray
please protect my soul
before they weather it away

yes, and move out to this town where dreams , ambitions and get lost in the party takes a toll on you, man this shit will charge a large fee just don't forget, who you are, G! staring at the man in the mirror like recognize him hardly brought my sins away and twist some parsley stop and chill, these days I do it sparsely in another Universe I coulda'had a stroller and a car seat but I tell me things not happen how they supposed to but somehow it seems I hurt all the people I get closed to experience a breakdown soem 27 goes through cause you don't want to see heaven yes, where Janis Joplin knows you oh phone calls with Mama like she trying to give me a Earfull she said This is the town that happens in so just be careful been trying to keep your head straight and dead-off all the bullshit thet's jyst dead weight

but I don't always feel that way

the whole world's outside knocking at my door like Gerald, where the fuck the lbum at?
but I ain;t home, I'm on the road the stage is where they found me at so my personal interest take a backseat to the business but I balance like a gymnast like Simon in the Olympics So please pardon my tardiness I;m trying to put my heart in this give this shit my everything every time when I start with this hungry of the world I swear I starve for this artst come and go
these days it's easy
they are not hard to miss here today
gone tomorrow
they fade into the dark abyss Hollywood sunk to a dream like how the fuck you fall from this?
have to know yourself or you just relly gon' get lost in this, sauce

I really paid the cost to be a boss I paid in cash and skuipped the tax ain;t asked for no receipt when I get stressed I play the bead and split a Swisher Sweet Damn
