Gary Numan, Jagged

They say I'm unforgiven and I have to pay Like I'm the demon resurrection They say that I turn innocence to panic But I don't care

They say that my obsession is unholy That I deviate from reason They say I make you suffer for my sins I hope you forgive me

Do you want it? Do you want it? My desire

I sink to my knees Head in my hands So now I'm just a shadow on their bleeding hearts This is why the righteous never learn I'm like a dead man hiding in the dark

What do you need? What do you need?

What have we become? All that we could be? Think of this as mercy, a small gift from me What does a confession ever do But take my guilt away

Do you want it? Do you want it? My desire

I Feel It Fall I Feel It Fall From Me I Feel It Fall Down I Feel It Fall For You

What do you need? What do you need?
