

Gene Clark, Rain Song

Today the rain came down again
And washed away the light
So night could then descend
I saw your face again
The rains came down today
The things we had to say
Were also washed away
Again that was yesterday
And though I feel the same
I can't go back again
Ooh the rain

Oh I had that dream again
In the hour before the dawn
And I don't know what it means
But I saw your face again
The rains came down today
The things we had to say
Were also washed away
Again that was yesterday
And though I feel the same
I can't go back again
Because the rain is gone
It's gonna come another day

Ooh the rain
Ooh the rain
