

Gene, Where Are They Now?

you said that i should look to the future, i've seen it i'll stay here i don't know why, i'm tied to the winter, can't find the time to leave the smallest gentle gesture, keeps the enemy at bay all i needed was a word where are they now?

the sky seems a little lower, but for that a normal day do i ask too much, where are they now?

you said that i, take more than i offer, yes this is how i spend my time you'll come undone, if you don't make the effort, so seek and ye shall find so when disaster struck me, no heart left to offend oh i only wanted friends where are they now? will you be there forever, say i'll never be without don't blame me for my doubt you see i can not stand alone, i'm incapable of breathing incapable of love

in my world, make me safe take me home i'm incapable of breathing, incapable of love

you see i can not stand alone, i'm incapable of breathing
incapable of love
oh oh in my world, make me safe take me home i'm incapable of breathing, incapable of love you said that i, should stop trying to call you you've had it up to here and i know your sort, but i just can't ignore you oh i'm lost in the fog
