

George Jones, Let's Build a World Together (1973)

George Jones & Tammy Wynette

T: You say that you want me

G: Yes, I really want you

T: Well, how much do you want me?

G: Well, I want you as much as a child wants its mother

G: Oh, that's how much I want you

T: And you say that you need me

G: Yes, I really need you

T: Well, how much do you need me?

G: I'll tell you how much can a man need a woman?

G: Well, that's how much I need you

T: Then what will you give me?

G: What will I give you?

T: Yes, what will you give me?

G: A garden of love that will live on forever

G: Oh, that's what I will give you

B: Then let's build a world together

B: One world, safe, together

G: And no matter what happens

G: I'll love you forever

G: And I'll give you love

T: And I'll give you love

B: Yes, I'll give you all of my love.
