

Grace Jones, Inspiration

I'm hoping to find a new source of information,
I'll step off the line,
I've been searching for some inspiration,
The thing I wrote off as false came true,
Another gift of mine with love from me to you.
Don't be intimidated, I don't want to be the first one,
It's a problem calculated,
I've been searching for some inspiration,
The thing I wrote off as false came true,
Another gift of mine with love from me to you.
Stop it now I've been killing myself,
I've been willing myself,
To give back all what he gave,
Another turnstile bare to the bone turning alone.
Hope he's turning in his grave,
My source of satisfaction from laying it on the line,
You could be the one too,
I've been searching for some inspiration,
The thing I wrote off as false came true,
Another gift of mine with love from me to you.
Stop it now I've been killing myself,
I've been willing myself,
To give back all what he gave,
Another turnstile bare to the bone turning alone.
Hope he's turning in his grave,
I'm hoping to find a new source of information,
I'll step off the line,
I've been searching for some inspiration,
Searching for some inspiration. (fade to end)
