Grandaddy, Ammo

dont change your name keep it the same for fear I may loose you again

I know you want it's just that I am unorganized and I wanna find you when something could happen

If you come down We'll go to town I haven't been there for years

But I define wasting our time not doing anything here And you stealing nothing

We sit for days and talk about things important to us like whatever

We'll defuse bombs walk marathons and take on whatever to gather whatever could gather....x5
