

Gretchen, Let It Go

I was alone, I was afraid
I was crawling thru a maze of my fear
Tattered and torn, battered and fraying
Never wanting to see the sun

Let it go, let it go, let it go----back to you

I was alone, I was a tired fighter
I was alive---but I lost the will to try
Tattered and torn, battered and fraying
Ever wanting to see the sun

Let it go, let it go, let it go----back to you

La, La, La, La
Da, Da, Da, Da --- all alone

Let it go, let it go, let it go---back to you
