

Guided By Voices, Eureka Signs

You tell me you've come to your senses
The coast is still in sight
Eureka signs, I'm slowing down
You helped me to remind you
You told me to remind you

Hell in the eye of consensus
Approaching sheds of night
In bleakness, blind as the ocean's mind
You want to look behind you
You told me to remind you

The sinful lie
Offends you every time
Assailants' oversight
Their vision has no right
You want me to remind you

You tell me you've come to your senses
The coast is still in sight
Eureka signs and I'm slowing down
You told me to remind you
You told me to remind you

The sinful lie
Offends you every time
Assailants' oversight
Their vision has no right
You want me to remind you

Every day it's the godawful same
I wanna go solo and drive

You told me to remind you
You told me to remind you
You told me to remind you
You told me to remind you
