Guided By Voices, Liar's Tale

Let me tell you a story Conclusive, based on fact Long ago in the morning She left, did not come back I don't really care anymore I don't really care anymore

Change the days into nights
And you will know when the feeling is right
This tale is too long
The plot is weak and the characters wrong
I don't really care anymore
I don't really care anymore

But she changed my life I thought she loved me And I will pray for you You'll see the truth Cause that's how it's got to be Oh oh oh yeah ooh

Let me tell you a story About the way she was Let me tell you a story About the way she was
