Guided By Voices, Sot

I walked into a place A living space of total grace I stepped into a place A living space of total grace

And time without, cause I'm tripped out is through And there's nothing I'd rather do Than be here right now There's nothing I'd rather do

I stepped into a place A living space of total grace

And time without, cause I'm tripped out is through And there's nothing I'd rather do Than be here right now There's nothing I'd rather do

There's nothing I'd rather do Than be here right now There's nothing I'd rather do
