Guided By Voices, The Finest Joke Is Upon Us

Mother, feeling your hand I Believe you and I did then And mother, release every bad seed The geese are leaving the trees

Exposed to winter's cold They waited too long But we too exaggerated And I take the cake away It's a long song And I can play it so Give me a pick now Collector of bones

Words of smoke
Distorted, never broken
Paradise is open but I choke
One of these days when I see through the smoke
There'll be the day I get the joke
