

Guided By Voices, Window Of My World

In the window of my world I see the sunlight
I see the moonlight
Crashing through my world
Yeah, in the window of my world I pry a mystery
Projecting my misery
In the window of my world, in my world

A wall once blocked my view and I couldn't move it
Got bruises to prove it
And maybe I was hurt
But I don't make myself to blame, I broke a small light
Make everything all right
In the window of my world, in my world

Give me your number
Give not my freedom to release you
Seek me in slumber
Take me in words that so complete you
Touch me in worlds that I might reach you

Give me your number
Give not my freedom to release you
Seek me in slumber
Take me in words that so complete you
Touch me in worlds that I might reach you

In the window of my world, a heart's birth brings meaning
Kicking and screaming
In the window of my world
Yeah, in the window of my world shoulder to shoulder
And I'm feeling bolder
Crashing through my world, in my world
