

Hollywood Undead, We Are

We are we are
We are made from broken parts
We are we are
We are broken from the start
Our hearts, our hearts
They were beating in the dark
We are we are
We are built from broken parts

If you can lose it all
Welcome to Broadway
Silicone dreams
And your name on the marquee
And I can hold it up
But I hold it up hardly
It's harder here in hell,
But it's getting real hard see
So all you sick, and the bitterness of the lonely
To all you overdosed and you miles of coke fiends
And every step, another step, you're walking on my dreams
And every breath, another breath you're breathing when I breathe
I watch them all come, gotta watch the rest go
I'm married to the devil in the city of angels
So come all you wicked to the world of the empty
I know I need it all, so baby don't tempt me
I'm knocking on our door, nope, nobody sent me
Just checking all you bitches like I'm checking this check sheet
So put your hats on, Lohner don't get soft
You can see God, when I take my mask off

We are we are
We are made from broken parts
We are we are
We are broken from the start
Our hearts, our hearts
They were beating in the dark
We are we are
We are built from broken parts

The fame is your best friend
You love it no questions,
Beating down the door is the face of rejection
And once again, it's a tragedy anthem
We never wanted more, we never needed your blessing
Who could give a fuck about a kid with a dream?
Cause stories aren't told about the ones unseen
With a gleam in his eye, his middle finger to the sky
Crooked smile on his face, he doesn't think he can die
So grab a pick and an axe, cause we try, we cry
Into the bottle of Jack,
We die inside, so when you look in his eyes
What you see now? Murder the monster you've made
And watch him bleed out
We're in a life where it's kill or lose
Just lie motherfu*cker till you hear the truth
From under the street, through the gutters of youth
Just cry motherfu*cker yeah, I'm talking to you

We are we are
We are made from broken parts
We are we are
We are broken from the start
Our hearts, our hearts
They were beating in the dark

We are we are
We are built from broken parts

From the city of angels
An empty vessel of devils
Is there no one to save us?
Through my eyes see the world, that you gave us

We are, we are
We are made from broken parts
We are we are
We are broken from the start
Our hearts, our hearts
They were beating in the dark
We are we are
We are built from broken parts

We are, we are from the city of angels
We are, we are an empty vessel of devils
We are, we are
Is there no one to save us?
We are, we are
Through my eyes see the world, that you gave us
