

Home Video, We

You've come so far, weary child

We can feel the ache in your bones

You've been dragging so long

They never spoke your tongue

We will shelter you

There will be no more ridicule

We will love you always

It can be this way if you come to me

You were in a spin, front to back

You would wonder if you were wrong

You felt lost in space

But everything is as it should

We knew this all along

We promise you

We will shelter you

There will be no more ridicule

We will love you always

It can be this way if you come to me &gt;
