

House Of Heroes, Something Of An Optimist

another day another night i think she lost count at one but never gave into doubt she closed her eyes
prayed every night
and knew the signs were there with eyes to the sky she saw hope loud no sound
love rained down on her

Chorus

days just float on by and we're so occupied that we forgot to cry
love shows its face
amazing grace
and everything's just fine sometimes i wonder "are you listening?"

"do you really care?"
but prayers are answered in your time i'm learning faith
i'm learning trust
i know true happiness
my fathers going to heaven
i'll see him
we'll smile

Chorus

and i'll see you in heaven (angels float on high) (x4)

i'll see you in heaven
