Iron Savior, Burning Heart

Who do you think you are
To tell us what to do
What makes us minor to you
We don't need advice
We don't need smart ass talking
Look at yourself and keep walking

Leave me alone With all your words of wisdom For once and all - for once and all time This is the bottom line

Take your life
Life it your way
Forget it in the amber
Of a bourning Heart
Life it for tomorrow
Taking on the future
With a bourning heart

Blinded by conformity
Obedience and rules
Now who are you to call us fools
We won't adapt, we are different
We're unique
And your egomania
Makes me goddam' sick

Leave me alone I'm gonna make it on my own For once and all - for once and all time This is the bottom line

Take your life

Solo (Piet)

We don't need your guiding star No need to tell us who we are Leave us alone For once and all time And once again Here comes the bottom line

Take your life

Life for tommorow
Life it your way
At bourning heart
Life for tommorow
Taking on the future
With a bourning heart and soul
At bourning heart and soul
