

Jack Russell, My Everything what would i be here without you near?

just another endless night without your light nothing's been so clear to me you are my life you're my everything i fall into your eyes a love we can disguise lets me put aside my pride nothing to hide there's not one thing more dear to me
you are my life you're my everything you're everything to me a love i'd wait a lifetime for i need to feel your touch i need to have it more and more and i'll be holding on forever the years will come and go and babe you need to know every day my love will grow for you to me are everything i hope to be
you are my life you're my everything my world i give to you the dreams we make come true they have a different point of view i'd love to see us through my eyes
you're my everything
