

Jacob Collier, WELLLL

Drowning, fishing, dropping, screaming under the lights
I'm feeling everything crashing, burning, I lost track of time
Into you
I'm breathing, I'm breathing, I think I'm reading you well
I'm bleeding, I'm bleeding, I think I'm reading you well

Burning, crashing, trampoline, the edge of the sun
I think I fell in love with lightning bolt, I'm ready to run
Into you
I'm screaming, I'm screaming, I think I'm reading you well
Believing, believing
I think I'm reading you well

Waiting, I'm patient
In keeping, I'm wanting more
Picking up the loose puzzle pieces scattered around the floor
Linking, I'm drifting, just waiting for you to know
Following the crumbs that I left for you, leading to my door

Waiting, I'm patient
In keeping, I'm wanting more
Picking up the loose puzzle pieces scattered around the floor
Linking, I'm drifting, just waiting for you to know
Following the crumbs that I left for you, leading to my door

I think I'm reading, I, I think I'm reading you well
I think I'm screaming, I, I think I'm reading you well
I'm breathing, I'm breathing, I think I'm reading you well
I think I'm reading you well
