

James Arthur, Can I Be Him

You walked into the room
And now my heart has been stolen
You took me back in time
To when I was unbroken
Now you're all I want
And I know it from the very first moment
Cause a light came on when I heard that song
And I want you to sing it again

I swear that every word you sing
You wrote them for me
Like it was a private show
But I know you never saw me
When the light came on
And I'm on my own
Will you be there to sing it again?
Could I be the one you talk about in all your stories?
Can I be him?

I heard there was someone
But I know he don't deserve you
If you were mine
I'd never let anyone hurt you
No, no!
I wanna dry these tears
Kiss those lips
It's all that I've been thinking about
Cause a light came on when I heard that song
And I want you to sing it again

I swear that every word you sing
You wrote them for me
Like it was a private show
But I know you never saw me
When the light came on
And I'm on my own
Will you be there to sing it again?
Could I be the one you talk about in all your stories?
Can I be him?
