Jerry Cantrell, Cold Piece

Been awhile and you see his face So you can't ignore the waste All the empty spaces No one home, leaving only traces

Give up, go 'way

He's not yours to save

And if you decide

He's not that kind

He got a cold piece inside

Cold piece inside

Now you hear that there's something wrong

Though it's sad, he lives his song

Ever changing

Stranded on the notes remaining

Give up, go 'way

He's not yours to save

And if you decide

He's not that kind

He got a cold piece inside

Cold piece inside

In your sunshine

In your sunshine

Where's your sunshine now

Average all, let it in my son

To be, is worth the damage done

You have no halo

Don't spend your time sniffin' round dead shadows

Give up, go 'way

I'm not yours to save

And if you decide

I'm not that kind

He say, give up, go 'way

I'm not yours to save

And if you decide

I'm not that kind

I got a cold piece inside

Cold piece inside

In your sunshine

In your sunshine

Where's your sunshine now
