

Jim Reeves, Roses

(Roses roses au au ua)

Roses, I send you roses with all the love
Their tender blossoming discloses
Just like my arms, they'll open wide
You'll see my heart inside.

Please dear, embrace the roses
Until I come to you And when the long day closes
Our spark of love will burst to flame
And put the red red roses to shame.

(Please dear embrace the roses)
(Until I come to you and when the long day closes)
Our spark of love will burst to flame
And put the red red roses to shame.
