

Jimmy Buffett, Countin' The Cows Every Day

Countin' the cows every day

Oh I'm just a cowboy, an old hired hand
Never seen nothin' majestic or grand
I just received a great big tax return
Now I'm off to las vegas with money to burn

It's been a while since I last left this town
Bought a new suit and I'm nevada bound
Gonna make it, gonna break it, I've been there before
Nothin's gone wrong, this town's such a bore

Chorus:

Aw, the train leaves at seven, all go to heaven
Nothin' here to make me stay
'cause that las vegas glitter sure beats kitty litter
Countin' the cows every day

Chorus:

Yeah, the train leaves at seven, on up to heaven
Nothin' here to make me stay
'cause that las vegas glitter sure beats kitty litter
And countin' the cows every day
