

Joe, Another Used To Be

[Verse 1]

I brought you here so that i can express the things i've been thinkin bout give me your ear. cuz i don't normally do this so bare with me through this. there are so many things that i want to say. but let me start by saying this saying i thank you. darling just because..

[Chorus]

i used to love someone that i didn't like we used to want to break up every other night. i used to think relationships were a lot of stress. i used to think that pain was a part of happiness. now all that's changed since you've come my way, but i don't want us to become another used to be.

[Verse 2]

I hope what i'm saying don't discourage you in any kind of way cuz i do believe that you have the potential to be everything i need. i hope that you can really understand that i would hate to be with someone new, and tell them what i'm telling you.

[Chorus]

i used to love someone that i didn't like. we used to want to break up every other night. i used to think relationships were a lot of stress. i used to think that pain was a part of happiness. now all that's changed since you've come my way, but i don't want us to become another used to be.

cuz it would only be another waste of time, another moment to be raised i would bout my mind. another memory a part of history. I cant forget cuz it keeps haunting me. Now that your here is evidently clear, but i don't ever have to have this worry again again. ooohhhoooooo.

[Chorus x3]

i used to love someone that i didn't like. we used to want to break up every other night. i used to think relationships were a lot of stress.i used to think pain was a part of happiness. now all that's changed since you've come my way, but i don't want us to become another used to be.
