

Joe Cocker, Forgive Me Now

(M.Moore)

Forgive me now
I think I've missed my whole reason
I'm ashamed for things I left undone

Don't break away
Sometimes we all need your protection
Even the mildest form of love is love
I get high hopes
And I have new dreams
Then comes a strong wave of emotion
And they scatter through the fingers of my life

Come save me now
I think I pay more attention
I guess I was rollin' way to high (to hear)

Don't break away
Sometimes we all need your protection
Even the mildest form of love is love
I get high hopes
I have new dreams
Then comes a strong wave of emotion
And they scatter through the fingers of my life

And I get high hopes
I have new dreams
Then comes a strong wave of emotion
And they scatter through the fingers of my life
