John Mellencamp, Sweet Suzanne

Now, Right now, Look at the place I' m in, When i think about things that i could have done Its impossible for me tp pretend. But i see it now as the lights grow dim and the world starts to close its eyes. i just wanted to say goodnight, Sweet Suzanne. I hear the music playin' but i no longer understand, Around the corner, down the street Its got to be better than where i am. I see it all now, as the light grows dim And the world starts to close its eyes. I just wanted to say goodnight, Sweet Suzanne. I just wanted to say goodnight, Just wanted to see if everything was all right, Just wanted to say goodnight, Sweet Suzanne. Time goes by Oh, so quietly, Hazy days and memories And in the end there was only me. Wouldn't have been, i ask sometimes, But i see myself inside this rhyme. Enjoyed what i had back then, Would i do it again? Well, I see it now As the lights grow dim I just wanted to say goodnight, Sweet Suzanne. I just wanted to say goodnight, I just wanted to see if everything's all right Just wanted to say goodnight, Sweet Suzanne. I just wanted to say goodnight, I just wanted to see if everything's all right,

I just wanted to say goodnight,

Sweet Suzanne.
