

Justin Bieber, Habitual

flowers open when they feel the sunlight moonrise, tide change right before our eyes aggressive but softly you play your lips on my lips we're each other's vice our feelings go deep deeper than the touching deeper than the ocean so we ain't never rushing through our days, or nights ain't no repercussions
never get enough
I am only for your consumption always rain he most in April every scale needs to be stable earth keeps spinnin' around we're breathin'

so thankful

my love for you's habitual not for a moment, but forever
know it sounds untraditional never ungrateful for it that's how we both want it
habitual
can't nobody keep me like you
call it unconventional
our love is habitual

just to think that we've been out here this whole time workin' through the seasons never crossed paths 'till we had a reason now let's fast-forward, look up a whole new perspective in life

always rain he most in April
every scale needs to be stable
earth keeps spinnin' around
we're breathin'
so thankful

my love for you's habitual
not for a moment, but forever
know it sounds untraditional
never ungrateful for it
that's how we both want it
habitual
can't nobody keep me like you
call it unconventional
our love is habitual