

Kamera, Town In A Coma

Lend me a hand,
Won't you sing me a song
I't been quiet for so long
In this hand-me-down town of the listless and starved
Sing a song,
Just a song,
To break the silence that hangs like a blackout
Break this silence,
'Cause soon we've got nothing at all to loose

'Cause we're loosing time
The big sleep is catching up on us
'Cause we're loosing time
It'll be the end of it all

Lend me your ear
And I'll tell you a tale
Of the scared and the silent
If you move, if you stir
If you make yourself heard
They will find you in no-time
But what with the forgotten dreams
Like a flickering scar on your eyelids?
While the radio waves tumble by
All silent and grey

'Cause we're loosing time
The big sleep is catching up on us
'Cause we're loosing time
The big sleep is catching up on us
Yeah we're loosing time
It'll be the end of it all

'Cause we're loosing time
The big sleep is catching up on us
Yeah we're loosing time
The big sleep is catching up on us
Yeah we're loosing time
It'll be the end of it all
The end of it all
The end of it all
