

Kamp!, Deny

feels like a grain of sand got in my eyes
i found real love
And! it run me down along the way a salty tear
suffering cries
i found real love
but i know the sun
made me blind
made me realize
(the) sun is only leading me astray

we're keep moving forward but everybody needs a hideout once a while now

reasons why you commit your crimes you falsify, keep tryin to deny what is real
deny what is real now
always down when the sun goes high you face the fear
but never reveal
never reveal now!

I need some shade
and peace of mind
i found real love
i'm not afraid
the sun made me blind
made me realize
(the) sun is only leading me astray
but i know my time's running low
i found real love
a grain of sand
got in my eyes
made me realize
(the) sun is only leading me astray

you falsify, tryin to
deny what is real
you face the fear, getting near you never reveal ever reveal now!
never reveal now!

Now it's my test of time Stop repeating the questions i once need to ask i've been fool for a while and now i'm bleeding my wounds, again!
