

Kari Sál, Wolf feat. Adam Bałdych & Jacob Karlzon

Every day at sunset
With the pack of hurt dogs, I set off on a hunt
In the thicket of human weaknesses, I track the steadiness of your heartbeat
Long night hours passed, it's time to finish the hunt
Before midnight I come back with nothing

My inner, secretive wolf
In the dark forest of your feelings
It has to fight for his home
It howls to the stars, baring its fangs

And as soon as the sun rises
With the pack of hungry dogs
I set off on a hunt again
I can't let you run away
I will track you until the end
Until we come face to face
I will track you until the end
Until we come face to face
With the truth about ourselves
