

Keke Palmer, Reverse Psychology

How can you expect me to stay?
After all the things you've done
I don't wanna feel this anymore, no!
Why do you expect to be forgiven?
Because you're a man?
Are your excuses worth much more?

What if I told you, I was out loving another man?
What if I told you, you didn't mean a thing?
What if I told you, that I loved you so
But these hoes I can't let go?
Could you handle all the things that you told me?
How about some reverse psychology?
How about some reverse psychology?

After the conversation we had
After all the moments we shared
How could you do these things to me?
Like love was supposed to make me stand by
And watch you tell me those lies
Why would you do me that way?

What if I told you, I was out loving another man?
What if I told you, you didn't mean a thing?
What if I told you, that I loved you so
But these hoes I can't let go?
Could you handle all the things that you told me?
How about some reverse psychology?
How about some reverse psychology?

Ladies, if you love someone and he broke your heart
And you feel what I'm talking about
Let me hear you say: "Yeah"
Let me hear you say: "Yeah"
/2x

What if I told you, I was out loving another man?
What if I told you, you didn't mean a thing?
What if I told you, that I loved you so
But these hoes I can't let go?
Could you handle all the things that you told me?
How about some reverse psychology?
