

King, The taste of your tears

I don't know about me
I can't see that I have changed
What I was is what I am
That still remains
What I love is what I see
But you've just twisted me too much
Tested and pried
To look inside
Now you can't stay
The taste of your tears
Tears me apart
The bittersweet salt cracks my heart
I don't know about me
I can't see that I have changed
What I was is what I am
That still remains
To au revoirs I have grown wise
I know goodbye should mean goodbye
There's no regrets
Just dry your eyes
Wipe your face