

Komety, Nobody to Love

Walking through these city streets my days filled with regret Thinking of the words that haunt me
Words I cant forget Memories loom in every thought Life passes me by and the memories keep on bringing pain I try to hide Nothing left to say now
With the sky above
walking through the city
with nobody to love
Nothing I can say now
With the sky above
walking through these city streets
with nobody to love
Still theres nothing I can say and nothing I can do Cant change the past Cant change the present Cant change the real you How far can you walk like this when you feel this way just living for the future until the final day?