Lady Pank, The Zoo That Has No Keeper

My throat is bare, there's a sense of danger;

I feel a hand,

And the hand is strange.

The hand is dead.

Red blood on my hand;

And as you die,

I don't feel your pain.

Where am Í now ?

What is this crowd -

Of creatures all around me?

What can I do inside the zoo

The zoo that has no keeper?

The dogs of war score and reassemble;

Their fangs go deep;

Sleep is blind to pain.

I feel their breath,

Death is no stranger;

The vulture soars,

Claws tear out my eyes.

Where am I now?

What is this crowd -

Of creatures all around me?

What can I do inside the zoo

The zoo that has no keeper?

There's no way out of this jungle

Just no way out of this jungle.

Outside my door four men are waiting;

They have the same names,

But no one knows;

The light goes out,

I shout, but no one hears me;

I feel a hand,

And the hand is strange.

Where am I now?

What is this crowd -

Of creatures all around me?

What can I do inside the zoo

The zoo that has no keeper?
