

Lauv, Modern Loneliness

I've been thinking about my father lately the person that he made me the person I've become and I've been trying to fill of this empty but fuck I'm still so empty I could use some love I've been trying to find a reason to get up been trying to find a reason for this stuff in bedroom and my closet the baggage in my heart is still so dark

modern loneliness
we're never alone but always depressed love my friends to death but I never call them I never text them
you get what you gave
and you give what you get, so
modern loneliness
we love to get high
but we don't know how to come down

if I could break my DNA to pieces rid of all my demons if I could cleanse my soul maybe I could fill the world with all my problems but shit wouldn't solve them so I am left here alone and I've been trying to find a reason to get up been trying to find a reason for this stuff

we love to get high but we don't know to come down we don't know to come down
