Linkin Park, One night

We stood upon the edge Eyes fixed in the sky Just before twilight Claimed the lights Wind carried voices Over the waters From a whisper Into a scream

We got this one night to make it real For tomorrow is too far from here

The words that we cast
Into eternity
They still echo in my ears
And in my dreams
So meet me tonight
In the place that time forgot
And take with you
All that you can't leave behind

Headlights open The road ahead They can't light up the sky But they can light our way
