

Lukas Graham, Lie

so much for supposed to be's girl I wish you luck getting over me and supposedly you're with him
but wish you were holding me you wish you were holding me

isn't it
isn't it
something
whenever you touch him
you don't feel nothing
isn't it
something
how quickly your honesty
just turns into make believe it turns into make believe

how dare you lie
to my face
you can't say
you're fine now

said you'd never call again guess it didn't go how you imagined it I know what it is all that time with him you were wanting this you were waiting this

isn't it
isn't it
something
whenever you touch him
isn't it
something

to my face
you can't say
you're fine now

you said he was perfect you said it was workin' you said you were certain now why would you lie it's ok look into my eyes and let's agree you've been lying to yourself not just to me
