

MAYAN, The Power Process

Blinded by society's constructions
We grope through the halls and the hollows
Soldiers marching without conviction
Disarmed, we obey and we follow
Don't believe all you see
Find the truth that hides within you
Twist the chain around your master
Start a massive scale disaster
Tear down the norm
Reclaim the power
To find your purest form
To break the spell
And lead a life without restrains
Deprived of our most basic instincts
We'll act as the system requires
Forces to sacrifice all we believe in
For an illusion of freedom and comfort
Don't believe all you see
Find the truth that hides within you
Leash
All the new spirits
Teach them lies
Speech
Insert a weakness
It divides us all
It divides us all
Heal yourself, ignore the masses
Watch the world through childlike glasses
Tear down the norm
Reclaim the power
To find your purest form
To break the spell
And find your one true self
Ignore the waves
And find yourself
In the arms of nature
