Michael Learns To Rock, This Is Who I Am

Now baby who's to blame You keep my picture in a frame Without room to move

Now show me the man That could fit into your plan Of a faultless love

Now we have to sail and we have to live And we have to fail and we have to forgive

(Chorus)
This is who I am
A part of me that you don't understand
And I love you still
I'm only riding through the hills

But it's a minor thing You're still the one that makes me sing Until the end of time

And you caught my love in a summer breeze But sometimes there's a bird that I have to release

(Chorus)

Can't you see you only want the best of me Now you've got the ball don't you let it fall

(Chorus)

This is how I feel A little part of me that you don't understand This is who I am A little part of me that you don't understand
