

Monument, Rock the Night

Awaken from your sleep and see the fires burn
Metallic Gods arise and take all the sinners to Hell

Crusaders marching on, an eagle in the sky
Blood brothers side by side we're hungry for Metal tonight

No chance to kill our spirit, many have tried
Just try to test our limits, and you will find

We rock the night!
We rock the night!
We rock the night!
We rock the night!

The skies have opened up, the prophet will return
Our name is legion and we're ready to fight til the end
The second wave is here to keep the faith alive
The spirit will remain the magic within never dies

Long hair and loud guitars will triumph once again
Our fallen heroes live their memory we'll not forget
And through the clouds and mist a monument will rise
For denim warriors with passion and fire in their eyes
