

Motor Ace, End Is Real - Motorace

we sing along, but we can stick together your changing mood, whenever changing weather one for the hills, a shock waiting in your eyes im leaving town, theres not a chance of staying before i run, dont even think of paying forget the rent, forget the money i'll be fine cause i believe the time is right for getting out and taking flight, i dont care if you dont get it baby been here before, you've got a way that makes it, im too ignored, it's never complicated you miss the point, you miss it every fuckin' time and so i go, theres not a change of staying im moving west, to keep the ends from fraying you new the score, i told you every single time cause i believe the time is right for getting out and taking flight,
and i believe the time is right for getting out and taking flight,

Break

cause i believe the time is right for getting out and taking flight,
the end is real,the end is real,the end is real,the end is real, and i don't care if u dont get it baby baby
