

Mustard Plug, Your Secret

You called me late last Monday,
Back from a weekend holiday.
A road trip journey out of town.

Out with your mates and their friends,
Didn't even know she'd be with them.
Collision course that's going down.

Hey! Ho! Once more!
Always the very last to know,
Don't let the cat out of the bag.
My friend you must know now,
Don't ever let her go now.
You're secret's worth more than your pride.

You said you did not plan it,
[Would] Never ever dream it'd happen,
Just kinda fell into her hands.

We'll listen to my words now,
Don't ever turn a good thing down,
You'll never have this chance again.

Hey! Ho! Once more!
Always the very last to know,
Don't let the cat out of the bag.
My friend you must know now,
Don't ever let her go now.
You're secret's worth more than your pride.
